The British Government has told Turkey to 'show respect for freedom of expression' following the arrest of a Northamptonshire journalist on a terror charge.

Former Northampton College and Tresham College Northampton student Jake Hanrahan, reporter for international news channel Vice News, and news channel vice tool, ameraman Philip Pendlebury were arrested while filming in the south-east region of Diyarbakir last Thursday.

The pair are alleged by Turkish authorities to have links to Islamic State and Kurdish Militants, and were Kurdish Militants, and were formally charged on Monday with 'working on behalf of a terrorist organisation'.

They had been filming clashes between the police and youth members of the Pro-Kurdistan Workers' Party when they were detained. when they were detained.

Their lawyer said the pair, who were transferred to a high-security prison yester-day, both deny the charges of working on behalf of a terrorist organisation'.

A Turkish translator they were travelling with was also detained and charged with the same offence.

Vice News say the accusations are 'baseless and false', and that it condemns the Turkish government's attempts to 'silence reporters who have been providing vital coverage from the region'. Kevin Sutcliffe, Vice's Head of News Programming in Europe, said: "We continue to work with all relevant authorities to expedite the safe release of our three colleagues and friends."

Since the arrest, campaigns have been launched by human rights groups and the National Union of Journalists to get the three men released.

The Foreign Office has told Turkish authorities to 'show respect for freedom of expression and the right of media to operate without restriction', adding that these 'are funda-mental in any democratic society'.

In a statement, the Foreign Office continued: "Turkey is a state party to the European Convention on Human Rights and UN Declaration of Human Rights. We would expect the Turkish authorities to uphold the obligations enshrined in those agreements."

"The journalists have been given access to a lawyer and were in direct contact with consular officials within 24 hours of their detention.

All three men are due to stand trial in Turkey.

The arrest of Northamptonshire journalist lake Hanrahan by the Turkish security forces is a worrying develop-

This is not simply a case of one journalist speaking up for another, or even one Northamptonshire resident sup-porting another - although either rea-son would be good enough to speak out. But something that few people appre-ciate is that journalists do not have (and should not have) any special rights compared to the ordinary citizen.

Yes we get invited to events and offered chances to review things.

But we don't have 'the right' to do that. Unlike the police, the military or the government our rights are in fact that same as any ordinary person.

If we are present in a situation we are there representing the public.
Our right to challenge the government and it's means of exercising power is the same as the public's.

So if they are locking journalists up, or shooting them, or using terrorism as a kind of trump card accusation that allows you to do whatever you want to someone who is annoying you, then it is not journalists who need more protection - it is the public as a whole.

Turkey very much wants to be part of the European family but is it really acting like a European state at the moment?

Many would say not and it is interesting that the British Government is reminding the Turks about the importance of respecting human rights.

The Human Rights Act has been pretty unpopular in some quarters in the UK but having it and respecting it is part of who we are

The arrest of Jake Hanrahan is a sobering reminder of that.

Fake police calls

Northants Police have warned residents to be wary of scam phone calls following two reports in the past week.
Officers have received reports of calls made from a woman claiming to be from the police to fit CCTV cameras.

Drug warning

Police are urging young people and parents to be aware of the dangers of nitrous oxide after a number of discarded canisters were found in Daventry last week. The drug can be very dangerous when inhaled and can cause death.

Parking issues

Problems caused by inconsiderate parking on Cobblers and Saints match days will be discussed by councillors at the Guildhall this month. They will look at the findings of an investigation into parking issues in St James.

Watchdog rating

The Care Quality Commission has found Northants Healthcare NHS Trust 'requires improvement' in all five areas inspected. They found issues in inpatient and dental services as well as end of life care.

£75k eBay bid for 'sordid' van

BY NICHOLAS BIEBER

nicholas.bieber@hpnorthants.

An online auction for a 'shouse' caravan described as suitable for 'dogging, affairs and murdering', has been cancelled by eBay because it might 'encourage illegal activity'.

activity'.

The 'shabby s' caravan racked up bids of more than £75,000 in just seven hours after being posted by Lindsay Butcher, from Castle Ashby in Northamptonshire.

She had posted the listing for the 'utterly cr*p' Elddis caravan last Thursday after her husband Lee bought it for £50 in a drunken spending spree on the site.

The advert for the vehicle – which came with a grimy sofa, foggy windows, a broken toilet and a crumbling kitchen drew more than 130 bids in just 24 hours.

But the next day it was taken down by eBay because the description went against the site's rules.

An eBay spokesman said: "While we understand this listing description was intended in a light-hearted way, it was removed as the description could be considered to 'encourage illegal activity' which contravenes eBay policy.

'We have reached out to the seller and very much hope they will re-list the item."

Mrs Butcher has signed off the description of her caravan: "'Quite frankly if you're in the market for a s caravan - this is the one for you."

Mystery gnomes 'freak out' locals

A gnome-invasion in a Northants village has left baffled locals mystified over who the culprit might be.

And if the residents weren't confused enough by the figurines, the garden ornaments are on the move every night.

The gnomes first appeared in the village of Pattishall, near Towcester, two weeks ago on a street called Lea Road.

But what started out as two gnomes sat at the side of the road, has turned into seven of them moving up and down the entire street.

One resident, who lives on Lea Road, has even been left 'freaked out' by the spooky looking figurines, which appear to be 'staring up' at them.

University is growing up fast

Lawrence John is invited to a special 10th birthday party for University of Northampton

The University of Northampton is ten years old and when it goes through puberty and hits 16, Professor Nick Petford hopes it will be 'smarter and stronger teenager who is giving even more to the community'.

Last Tuesday, the University of Northampton welcomed hundreds of former staff and students back to Park Campus, to celebrate the 10 year anniversary of the University receiving formal University title and research degree awarding powers.

Higher Education in Higher Education in Northampton has a unique history: between 1261 and 1265, Northampton was sanctioned by Henry III as an alternative place of study for students displaced from Oxford and Cambridge during civil unrest. Four years later, the original University in Northampton was dissolved by the King. During the 19th Century various teaching colleges were established, Over the years these colleges amalgamated and in 1999 became Nene College, later University College Northampton. In 2005, the University of

In 2005, the University of Northampton was formally established. In the 10 years since receiving degree awarding powers, the University has established itself as a leading provider of Higher Education in the region, nationally and internationally.

Professor Nick Petford, Vice Chancellor said: "It is further evidence to celebrate what the university has achieved so far. It is the only university in the county of Northamptonshire.

"By getting university status it allowed us to raise our own funding and go to the money market and get the bonds we needed to do something like the Waterside Project.

"The university as a brand has got stronger with all the positive feedback we have had from students and for being at the top for employability.

"This means students leave us with the skills that mean they can compete for the best jobs in a competitive job market.

Former Vice Chancellor (2002-2010), Ann Tate said: "I am immensely proud of the decision which was taken 10 years ago as we all felt it was the right choice. We had to go through a difficult process what was not without its risks but we achieved it. I think the rate of achieving university status was 70-30. If we were going to for it we had to go for gold, there were no prizes picking up a bronze.

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Trevor Skidmore feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps.

Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service

Cloudy2Clear service the Northampton, Kettering, Wellingborough & Corby areas and Trevor is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

The NHS in Northants is spending millions of pounds on items for patients, including a satnay, robot cleaner, family holidays and a summer house. Cash is also being spent by NHS Nene Clinical Commissioning Group (CGC) and NHS Corby CGC, which handle health money for Northamptonshire, on hydrotherapy, Japanese massage, Indian head massages, art classes, clothes and kitchen equipment - including a food processor.

information comes from an investigation by medical magazine Pulse, which has uncovered - through Freedom of Information requests - the 'luxury goods' being spent from NHS 'personal health budgets', which allow people in England with long-term conditions more control over their healthcare.

It claims NHS Nene and NHS Corby CCG's spent £2.55 million between them on personal health budgets for just 161 patients in 2014/15, including a family holiday so a patient could 're-estab-lish relations' with their children and another holiday - with a dog.

A spokesperson Nene CCG said "When considering the detail of how personal health budgets are being used, it's important to understand the real clinical benefits to the patients involved, and the signifisavings which result for the care sys-

HERITAGE WEEK: Economy Conference at Broughton House near Kettering

County ready for heritage week

BY LAWRENCE JOHN

lawrence.john@hpnorthants.co.uk

Northamptonshire's Heritage Week runs from September 7-11.

The week will culminate in a major conference that has attracted the leading lights in the heritage world.

The Heritage in the Economy Conference takes place on Friday, September 11, at Boughton House, the Duke of Buccleuch and Queensberry's home, in Geddington, Northamptonshire, and will explore the important contribution that heritage can make to the economy.

The conference organised by Northamptonshire County Council with Northamptonshire Enterprise Partnership has attracted some of the leading names in heritage including Sir Laurie Magnus, Chair of Historic England; Nick Way, Director General, Historic Houses Association; Ros Kerslake, Chief Executive of Princes Regeneration Trust; and Taryn Nixon, Chief Executive of MOLA (Museum of London Archaeology) alongside highly respected local and regional experts.

The one day seminar will explore the role that heritage plays in developing a prosperous local and regional economy

Jo Lappin, NEP Chief Executive said "We are delighted to have attracted such an excellent line up of speakers for the Heritage in the Economy Conference, which is recognition of the important heritage offer available here in Northamptonshire.

"This is an absolute must attend event for anybody involved in the heritage sector, who wants to hear how the sector can demonstrate real economic returns.

"We have some excellent case studies, so that people really can learn from what works.

"This really will be the perfect end to what promises to be a brilliant week showcasing some of Northamptonshire's excellent heritage, including Rockingham Castle, Prebendal Manor, Canons Ashby, Fotheringhay Village, Kirby Hall, and Holdenby House.

"Our heritage offer really is exceptional and we want more people to come and experience

Car park objections

Northants Police has renewed its appeal for potential victims to come forward in its investigation into alleged historic sexual and physical abuse at the Jesus Army.

Last week the force announced it had arrested a number of people following a series of historical complaints of physical and sexual abuse from various individuals, many of whom were referred directly to them by the current leadership of the Jesus Army. Some of those arrested were members of the Northants-based Christian movement, while others fre-quented their prem-ises on an 'ad-hoc basis

All the complaints refer to alleged incidents from the 1970s to 1990s.

Over 100 objections have been lodged against a planning application for a car park at a golf club on the site where the Battle Northampton was Dĕlapre Golf Society.

Centre, in Eagle Drive, has been hit by a wave of criticism from local residents and heritage organisations after submit-ting plans for a new 41-space car park on Now more than 100 objections have been made against the plans, from the likes of Rhe Battlefields Trust, The Tudor Society, Richard III Historic Gardens, Naseby Battlefield Project and Northampton Battlefields Society.

Let's get together and help save the Sekhemka statue

It is the human right of all nations to be able to see, enjoy and learn from the products of human history and civili-

Thus the sale of the Sekhemka statue by the Northampton Borough Council is in its way a crime against humanity. By selling the statue, which was held in trust for the public in the Northampton Museum, Northampton Council has denied the world a jewel of Pharaonic civilisation What is worse, in taking on the role of antiquities dealer Northampton Council has engineered a disaster for the international museum community, diminishing the trust of the public in all our museums and encouraging those who use antiquities as commodities to be cashed in for gain. Even those criminals and terrorists who would loot, traffic and sell the birth right of nations to raise funds and launder dirty money.

If the selling of Sekhemka, a unique and irreplaceable wonder of Egyptian Art and Culture, is a major crime against the people of the world and puts other antiquities in danger, selling the statue to an anonymous buyer compounds the crime. This action moves Sekhemka from the world of a living museum where the statue can be seen and enjoyed to unknown place which deprives the world of the knowledge embodied by Sekhemka.

The Save Sekhemka Action Group in Northampton with its fellow campaigners in London and Egypt ask the intervention of all individuals and organisations with an interest in the enjoyment and celebration of the diverse cultures of the world to uphold the Human Right of the public to see Sekhemka as was always intended by those who originally placed the statue

in Northampton Museum

A way must be found to keep Sekhemka on display in a museum in Britain to show the public around the world what a glory the Pharaonic civilisation of Egypt represents.
If the UK Government, Arts Council

England and the UK Museum Community cannot come up with such a solution, then the Sekhemka statue MUST be returned to its home-land of Egypt and placed in an Egyptian Museum for the pleasure and education of tourists visiting Egypt and the modern custodians of Egypt's culture, the Egyptian people.

The Ancient Egyptians believed that a person lived as long as their name was remembered. It is now up to the British Government, Arts Council England and the Museum Community, to decide how Sekhemka's name is to be remembered: as a shining name to be shared with the world or as a name forevere tarnsihed with the stain of ignorance and greed dragging down the names of those who allowed this cultural crime to happen.

BLOGGER OF THE WEEK: Save us from banality

Lawrence John

Northants Herald & Post reporter Lawrence John writes a regular weekly blog. Here is his latest about how his bank holiday bonanza of banality was saved by Elvis Presley and The Beatles

This wasn't an ordinary bank holiday, this was a bank holiday bonanza. I had a four hour drive from South Wales back to Kettering.

I stopped twice, once to do some shopping at Asda in Merthyr Tydfil and then at Marks & Spencer at the Warwickshire Shopping Park.

Talk about cosmopolitan shopping locations. Does it get any better than Merthyr in the drizzle?

Usually I play a number of CDs of my choice when driving back. I never listen to the radio.

I started the engine and heard something interesting on Radio 2 so I thought I would stick with it. I was like a gambler who was gambling responsibly. It was to quote Hank Hill cartoon star of King of the Hill, 'having fun in pre-scribed limits' This was Elvis v The Beatles.

The station was playing the Top 50 Elvis Presley selling songs in the UK and the top 50 selling Beatles songs throughout the day.
I started listening at 9.30am with The Ken Bruce show and listened to 7pm and Simon Mayo drive time (Mark Goodyear stood in for Simon Mayo). It was enjoyable hearing an Elvis song then a Beatles song.

This changed with the Jeremy Vine show who did his normal format interspersed with the

What struck me about this show, the Steve Wright show and Mark Goodyear, was the inanity and banal way the presenters sounded.

Their small talk made me itch as it sounded so contrived, so full of undeserved cheer and false enthusiasm.

Jeremy Vine was not only telling us his glass was half empty but screaming it was half empty and getting less with every sip.
We were heading to the bottom of the glass, who would save us? Who was to blame? Call 0800 0845 678 and tell us if you know who is to blame and do you agree?

I was irritated to the point of wondering do people in the real world actually speak like this?

The way they spoke was full of fake upbeat enthusiasm of the highest order.

...do people in the real world actually speak like this?

A month long anti-litter campaign to tidy up Northampton town centre and two of its main gateways has been launched by Northampton

Borough Council.

The 'Love Northampton – let's keep it clean' campaign, which launched on September 1, aims to raise awareness of the problem of littering, make people think more about their actions and encourage everyone to do their bit to help keep our town clean and tidy

Keep Britain Tidy estimates that street cleansing alone costs taxpayers almost £1 billion a year in England. In Northampton the cost is around £1 million.

Roof protest man spared

BY NICHOLAS BIEBER

A West End rickshaw driver from Northampton who caused £5,500 of damage to the Houses of Parliament during an eight hour rooftop stand-off has walked free. Braydon Liam Anderson, 23, of Portland Place, sparked a major security alert after he drunkenly scaled the historic landmark and ranted about supporting ISIS to bemused crowds.

During the attack he yanked a golden ornamental crown from the top of a colonnade and used it to smash a stained glass window. shattered 11 further windows and battered a CCTV camera.

He used a broom to jab at officers who attempted to rescue him from the 100-foot high perch and told them he got there 'by magic' on 7 March this year.

Braydon admitted a charge criminal damage and a charge of trespassing on a protected site and appeared at Southwark Crown Court for sentence.

Judge Michael Grieve noted Anderson has bipolar and was highly intoxicated' 'clearly throughout the protest and had no recollection of ranting from

This was a very serious public disturbance in which you put your own life at risk and caused very real disruption to scarce public resources," he said.

"What I have to deal with is an alarming public disorder on your part although of course I do so in the context of what I know about "It seems to me that you got very drunk on that particular day... and the result was you behaved in a frightening and dangerous way as to which you yourself have very little recollection and can give no coherent explanation.'

Anderson was jailed for 32 weeks but walked free on Tuesday as he has already spent more than half his sentence in custody following his March arrest. He will be released on license for the remainder of his term.

Anderson suffered a 'torrid' upbringing, including the death of his father from an overdose when he was just 12.

He has a criminal record including several incidents of violence as a juvenile and frequent breaches of licence and bail conditions.

Lord of the Rings to widow's rescue

HERO PLUMBER: Liam found the ring in the u-bend pipe which had got clogged up

BY NICHOLAS BIEBER nicholas hieher@hnnorthants

A plumber came to the rescue by saving the wedding ring of a 97-year-old widow who had been married 67 years from the plughole.

The grandmother-ofsix, who was given the ring by her late husband who passed away 10 years ago, had been washing her hands at her home in Towcester, Northants, when the ring slipped off her fin-ger and ended up down the plughole.

worried Frantically that she had lost her ring for good, she immediately called Corby-based Dyno plumbing fran-chise - 'Eco-Aqua chise - 'Eco-Aqua Services' - who then sent a plumber round to her

And when plumbing engineer Liam Carr, 25, turned up at her house, he noticed straight away the customer was 'very concerned' about the ring, and soon found out that the ring was 'hugely sentimental' to her.

Liam, who has worked for Eco-Aqua Services for five years, said: "I could see how much this ring meant to the customer and I wanted to make sure I found it. The ring had great sentimental value as this was the last memento the lady had from her husband, and I was determined not to leave the house without ensuring the ring was back on her fin-

To retrieve the ring Liam took the u-bend trap off from under the sink. He had to clean the pipe out several times before the ring then finally surfaced.

The elderly woman was said to be 'absolutely thrilled', and could not thank Liam enough for finding her ring, which she said 'meant the world to her'.

She referred to Liam as her hero, and was 'over-whelmed' with his act of

The Catch22 Northamptonshire
Academy will be a new alternative provision school for 4 to 16-year-olds in Northampton.

The Corby Free Special School will address the need for more special school places in Corby, where parents and their children often have to travel significant distances to access a suitable education

These schools are part of the first 18 projects of this parliament have had the green light

Speaking yesterday, about the launch of the free schools, the Prime Minister David Cameron said: "As a One Nation Government we are clear that every family should have access to a great local school and every child should get the very best education - and free schools are a crucial part of that aim.

"The aim of this policy is crystal clear, to increase the number of good and outstanding school places so that more parents have the security of knowing their child is getting a great education.

Call centre staff in the Northants force control room have been battling it out to be crowned the Great FCR Bake Off's best baker.

Used to dealing with high-pressured situations and life or death circumstances, the bakers were instead tested on aspects of their baking skills, in order to raise money

Eight bakers each baked six cup-cakes, which were expertly tested by Chief Constable Simon Edens and Assistant Chief Constable Rachel Swann.

The judging panel of chief officers tested for design, taste and texture. Inspector Lara Alexandra-Lloyd was crowned the overall winner for her

Restaurant eyes prize

A restaurant in Northampton has been named as a regional finalist in the coveted Tiffin Cup – a parliamentary search for the country's top curry house.

Last year, Saffron, in Castilian Street, narrowly missed out on the top prize in the annual competition to find the best South Asian restaurant in the UK but is back in the hunt again this time around Nominees are selected by the public and then put forward by their local MPs Saffron was nominated by MP for Northampton South, David Mackintosh. The Tiffin Cup is awarded every year by the Tiffin Club of MPs, formed in 2006 by former MP John Barrett, Michael Fabricant MP and Keith Vaz MP.

The aim is not only to applaud the quality of South Asian food in Britain but also to raise money for charity World Vision.

Gang sentenced to over 66 years

BY LAWPENCE IOHN

lawrence.john@hpnorthants.co.uk

A Northamptonshire gang of violent armed robbers, who used weapons including a shotgun, hammer and metal pole, have been sentenced to 66 years and four months in prison.

The gang, George Pavlou, Shekuduka Katampe, Kalil Robinson, Daniel Barden, Addeell Qureshi, Kieron McGrath, Gavin Gordon and Raheem Bestman worked together to carry out a series of offences between 18 August 2014 and 10 October 2014.

The gang appeared at Northampton Crown Court on Friday, August 29, where they were sentenced.

The following burglaries were carried out by a combination of the offenders:

- On 28 August 2014, in Irchester Road, Rushden, they used violence to get into the victim's home where they tied the victim up, assaulted him using a hammer and stole firearms.

- Between 9 and 10 September 2014, in Thorn Hill, Briar Hill, Northampton,

COUNTY THIEVES: Members of the gang jailed for over 66 years armed with a sawn off shot gun, the offenders used violence to get into the victim's home.

- On 30 September 2014, in Kenmuir Avenue, Northampton, they smashed a window to get into the family home where two young children sleeping.

- In September 2014, a lengthy and complex investigation started when officers from the organised crime team linked the offences as a series being committed by the same group.

- An operation was planned to arrest all suspects on 13 January 2015 and resulted in a variety of charges being secured against the offenders

The pre-arranged attacks involved the gang wearing balaclavas and other face coverings.

They used extreme violence using weapons in the victims' homes

Named: the slowest roads in the county

nicholas.bieber@hpnorthants.co.u

slowest roads Northamptonshire have been revealed with traffic speeds reaching just 13 mph in some areas during morning rush hour. The A4501 - on the east of Northampton town centre running along St Edmund's Street and Cliftonville Road - is the slowest A road in the county.

The average speeds in June this year on that road was just 12.9 mph on the northbound stretch, followed by the second slowest in the county which is on the south-bound stretch of the same road, at 13.3 pmh.
Seven years ago the average speeds on the northbound and southbound carriageways of the A4501 were 14.3 mph and 13.4 mph respectively, meaning the road has become slower.

However some roads have seen slight improvements with speeds on the A6013 in Kettering - which runs along Northampton Road increasing from 11.9 mph in June 2010 to 18.3 in June 2015

The fastest road in the county is in the north of the county which runs from Islip to Rockingham where the average speed is 39.6. All of this data is from the Department for Transport, and it shows the average speeds on A roads between 7am and 10am.

The top three slowest roads in

- Cliftonville Road Northampton) - 12.9 mph
- A5101 southbound (runs along Park Avenue North in Abington, Northampton) - 15 mph ■ A5095 northbound (from
- Kingsthorpe to Bedford Road in Northampton) 15.9 mph

Mobile bar on wheels

An ingenious father and daughter team have given a horsebox a brand new lease of life by transforming it into a mobile gin bar. Anna Shanks, who grew up in Wellingborough and attended Wrenn School before moving to London, has teamed up with her father Jonn, and best friend Chloe Davies to change the £1,600 horse box into a handmade bar.

The trio spent eight weeks working on the project, and while trying to retain as many features as possible, they repainted the main body of the horse box in dark blue.

They also replaced the plastic mudguards with shiny silver aluminium moulds and swapped its door hatches for chalkboard menus.

Two months on since completing the transformation in June, the trio are now travelling the UK with their new business 'The Gin Tin' - attending festivals, weddings and birthday parties.

Anna, aged 33, said: "It has been a phenomenal achievement to witness. We still have to pinch ourselves now just to remind ourselves it has happened.

County is a top rural hotspot

Northamptonshire has been named as one of the top 10 counties in England for running a rural business by the CLA.

The organisation, which represents landowners, farmers and rural businesses, has named the county in seventh place in its Rural Business County League

Table - and number two in its eastern region.
The Table scores each county on some of the main criteria that can support or challenge rural firms. These include the extent of broadband and mobile coverage; adoption of local plans by planning authorities; and opportunities for development of rural

Topping the CLA's League Table as the best county in England for running a rural business was Cheshire, followed by Cumbria and Oxfordshire in equal second place, Gloucestershire fourth, and Surrey in fifth place.

What Your Agent Has To Say

Customers at the heart of business

The property industry has changed over recent years with the emergence of a number of varying business models claiming to be able to efficiently sell your home.

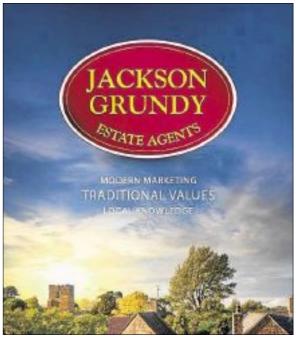

Many of these companies highlight their key benefit to the customer as being low (often up front) fees for essentially introducing their property to Rightmove or Zoopla. The customer must of course decide whether this is all they want from their 'agent', or if they require broader marketing and a more comprehensive service.

At Jackson Grundy we strive to offer our customers the best of both worlds; we believe our marketing package is unrivalled...21 years trading experience, I1 county-wide sales offices, I4 property websites, 3 local newspapers and I0 magazines. Even with this profile, though, we offer competitive fees when compared to others.

It is often on the service side where many 'low cost agencies' look to save on their overheads. Scrimping in this area can cost homeowners in the long run. A market valuation carried out by an expert is significant as it is often the difference between selling and not, or achieving the optimum price or not. The same can be said about professionally prepared property details. Accompanied viewings are important for buyers to feel relaxed enough to be honest and to be able to ask questions.

We also feel having a professional handle the negotiation process is invaluable and, finally, once a sale is agreed, the support and proactivity of an estate agent can make the difference in whether the sale proceeds through to completion or not.

So when you next need to arrange a valuation, please contact us on 01604 753044 so you can make a comparison on cost, coverage and service.

MOVE HOBIN ROBERTS RAISES CONCERNS FOR LOCAL LANDLORDS

Following concerns raised recently about the conduct of a local lettings agent, one lettings agency in Northampton is highlighting the importance of choosing an agent who is a member of a regulatory body, such as the Association of Residential Lettings Agents (ARLA), to avoid being exposed to irresponsible, and in some cases fraudulent, practices.

lan Hobin, Director of Your Move Hobin Roberts in Northampton, commented:

"With increased activity in the lettings market it's understandable that many estate agents are starting to target landlords and tenants rather than their conventional buyer and sellers and are now offering a lettings service. Worryingly, however, many of these agents are not regulated or meeting the required standards for lettings agents.

"As ARLA has stated in the past, 'in order to make the transition from an estate agent to a lettings agent, agents need to have studied more than a hundred different pieces of legislation, and pass minimum competency tests to ensure their ability to advise clients to the required standards."

"This is obviously a major concern not only for landlords and consumers but also agents, like Your Move Hobin Roberts, who are regulated. We fear that not only could the consumer be exposed to bad practice but that it could also damage the reputation of the industry as a whole.

"Landlords need to be very wary and choose a reputable ARLA regulated agent, such as Your Move, Hobin Roberts, who as part of one of the UK's largest lettings agents has built its success on its excellent reputation and award winning service.

"Using an ARLA agent means customers can be assured they are using an agent who has demonstrated that they have a thorough knowledge of their profession and that they conduct their business according to current best management practice. Each member is governed by a Code of Practice providing a framework of ethical and professional standards at a level far higher than the law demands and all are required to have professional indemnity insurance cover. In addition tenants need to be confident that their agent holds their deposit is a secure scheme to ensure if the worse should happen their deposit is protected."

If you'd like more about the services available from Your Move Hobin Roberts, simply contact your local Your Move office at 19 Bridge Street, Northampton, NN1 1NH (or one of their otherofficesinAbington, Duston, Kettering, Kingsthorpe, or Towcester), call them on 01604 629835 or access their website at https://www.your-move.co.uk/estateagent/northampton

The sound and Fury of Billy's rock 'n' roll

BY LAWRENCE JOHN

Audiences at Royal & Derngate will be taken on an unforgettable journey unforgettable journey through the musical career of one of Britain's best-loved rock 'n' rollers, with The Billy Furv Years.

Hailed as 'the best Fury since Fury', Michael King and his fantastic collection of musicians bring an exciting two hour show filled with Billy's greatest hits including Jealousy, I Will, In Thoughts Of You, Halfway To Paradise and many more, all delivered live in true Fury style.

The years 1961 through 1963 were Fury's best years chartwise.

He achieved 24 hits in the 1960s, and spent 332 weeks on the UK chart, without a chart-topping single album.

Michael King who plays Fury, bears an uncanny resemblance to Billy Fury, which is further enhanced by a series of wonderful costume changes.

The production also has the addition of a fantastic audio and video presentation setting each and every scene to perfection.

Northampton has a special significance for Fury fans, as the star's last public appearance took place at The Sunnyside pub. This was a month before his tragic death in January 1983.

The Billy Fury Years comes to the Derngate stage on Sunday, September 13 at 7.30pm.

Tickets for the show are priced at £18.50.

A charge of £2.50 applies for all transactions over £15. Does not apply to Groups, Friends or Disabled Patrons, and is per-transaction, not per-ticket. To book, call 01604 624811 or visit www.royalandderngate.co.uk.

BTCC set to thrill the crowds this weekend

BY LAWRENCE JOHN

lawrence.john@hpnorthants.co.uk

The Dunlop MSA British Touring Car Championship is heading to Northamptonshire

this weekend.

Drivers will be leading the action on four wheels at Rockingham's headline meet-ing when the race returns on September 5/6.

If past seasons are anything to go by, Rockingham will play an influential part in the 2015 title race by hosting round eight of the popular tin-top series.

Last year proved a fantastic season for the championship with no less than 31 cars lining up on the grid, including seven British Touring Car Championships (BTCC) champions, a further six BTCC race winners and a significant number of rising contenders.

However it was eBay Motors Colin Turkington, returning to the championship after a three year absence, who overcame the challenge of MG KX Clubcard Fuel Save's Jason Plato, to add his name to an elite list of drivers to have won the title more than once.

Immigration is hitting the headlines in the television news on an hourly basis and on a daily occurrence in all the national newspapers.

One programme which is taking a different look at immigration is entitled Croseo i Gymru - Welcome to Wales on the Welsh speaking channel S4C (Sky 134) on Saturday afternoon.
It is looking at English families moving into Wales and finds out the reasons they wanted to move to Wales.

It is also revisiting three families who moved to the Principality 10 years ago: the Kirks to Brecknockshire. Johnsons to Carmarthenshire and the Rauysch's to eso

The programme looks at the impact newcomers are having on small rural villages but also looks at how the new influx of people is helping to keep these communities thriving.
It is not a negative programme it is positive showing how the lives of incomers and residents are enhanced by this new coming together.

It is about people moving to a new country for a different lifestyle and a better life. In other world what all immigrants have sought throughout history.

NEW TECH: The Navara has an array of new technology for comfort and safety the very latest in comfort and safety features, it sets a new benchmark for affordable technology. Around View Monitor and Forward Emergency Braking (FEB) – both highly acclaimed Crossover safety features – are unique to the pick-up market and provide customers with more advanced levels of technology than ever before in a pick-up truck. Further safety and convenience features include Cruise Control, Hill Descent Control (HDC) and Hill Start Assist (HSA), all of which have been developed to meet the specific demands of NP300 Navara owners, as well as keyless entry, rear-view camera and parking sensors.

Every element of the cabin has been optimised to provide the best possible quality, comfort, space and practicality for drivers and passengers. The dashboard assembly has been redesigned from the ground up, with a sculpted appearance that creates increased cabin space and a more open feel. Spinal Support front seats offer improved ergonomics, and have been engineered using technology inspired by NASA.

Additional features the Nissan Navara boasts include the dual-zone digital climate control, as well as a new rear cab ventilation and seat design, to provide a more comfortable travelling environment for passengers.

VW Touareg

Take a look inside...

Volkswagen's Touareg range is now powered exclusively by 3.0-litre diesel engines available in either 204 or 262PS outputs. The styling has been facelifted and you now get even more gear for your money. There's an off-road oriented Escape version on offer and prices are now on a par with the pricier compact SUVs.

The Touareg engine range has been rationalised and it's now far easier to understand. There are two engines to choose from and they're both economical 3.0-litre turbo diesels. One makes 204PS and the other a gutsier 262PS, both driving all four wheels via a brilliant eightspeed Aisin automatic gearbox With this transmission top speed is reached in 6th gear, 7th and 8th essentially being used as overdrive gears to improve cruising economy.
That said, not all Touaregs are created equal, especially if you're planning to venture off road. For anything a bit Bear Grylls you might want to look to the Escape version which features the 4XMOTION offroad four-wheel drive system, with 50:50 torque split and centre and rear axle mechanical differential locks, higher off-road suspension, 18-inch 'Karakum' alloy wheels, 100-litre fuel tank (85 litres is standard on SE), and underbody protection.

The styling of the latest Touareg models definitely has some extra sparkle as a result of the most recent facelift. The styling hasn't been radically altered by the net effect is sleeker, less macho look. The revised bumpers incorporate grilles with more slats than a Ferrari Testarossa and the revised alloy wheel designs are also a good deal showier than litarian look of some of the older designs. The lack of a seven-seat option will continue to hinder the Touareg's appeal to family buyers but there's plenty of room for five adults to get comfortable and their luggage should fit in the extremely spacious boot.

The refresh to the Volkswagen Touareg is welcome but it doesn't disguise the fact that this model is getting a little long in the tooth. As long as you don't feel the need to have the newest and freshest thing on the market, the Touareg still has a lot to be said for it. It's tough, drives well and as long as you don't need seven seats, it's hard to pick holes in its practicality.

UK Ford Mustang Orders Accelerate Towards 2,000

Almost 2,000 Ford Mustang orders have been taken in the UK since January as the first right-hand drive cars begin to roll off the production line at Flatrock Assembly Plant in Michigan, North America. The Ford Mustang – introduced in the U.S. more than 50 years ago – has excited fans across the globe, but has never been available to order with right-hand drive, until now, The first UK right-hand drive, until now. The first UK customer deliveries are expected from November, with extra supply secured to meet the greater than expected demand. So far, 80 per cent of UK customers have opted for the fastback body style over the convertible and 70 per cent have specified the 416PS 5.0-litre V8 engine over the more fuel-efficient 31PS. over the more fuel-efficient 317PS 2.3-litre EcoBoost engine. Mustang's six-speed manual transmission is the slightly more popular choice (55 per cent) over the six-speed automatic, which comes with sporty SelectShift paddle control. Over half of UK
Mustangs have been specified with the Custom Pack which includes satellite navigation, a Shaker Pro 12-speaker audio system, heated and cooled front seats, a rear view camera, Luster Nickel silver alloy wheels and extra chrome detailing on fastback models.

Dacia Line-Up Even More Shockingly Affordable

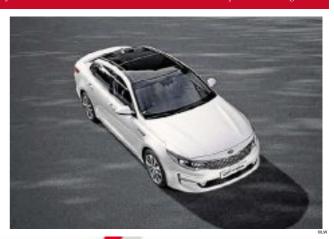

'shockingly affordable' to run with the introduction of a brand new EU6compliant 1.6 16V 115 petrol engine which improves performance, reduces fuel consumption and CO2 emissions, fuel consumption and CO2 emissions, significantly reduces running costs and improves the towing capacity of 4x2 models. It replaces the previous 1.6 16V 105 engine. With its arrival, Dacia now offers a greater number of petrol-engined models in the Duster line-up. Mid-range Ambiance 4x2 and 4x4 versions have Animance 2 and 7x7 versions been added, giving a more progressive and logical product line. Previously, only entry-level Access models were offered

Introducing The Stylish All-New Kia Optima

The all-new Kia Optima will be unveiled in European specification at the Frankfurt International Motor Show on 15 September 2015. The fourth-generation Optima, which will go on sale across Europe in 04 2015, boasts a modern, new exterior, a bold interior design with more space for all occupants, an array of new technologies and a wide choice of efficient powertrains. The new model will offer greater refinement and improved ride and handling over the outgoing model, while retaining the sporty image that has helped Optima become one of Kia's best-selling models worldwide. The exterior styling of the all-new Kia Optima was a question of balance for Kia's global design teams. The all-new Optima maintains the athletic identity that made it so popular, while making a confident leap forward to attract car buyers looking for something different. Conceived under the watchful eye of Peter Schreyer, President and Chief Design Officer of Kia Motors, the all-new Optima offers more road presence than ever, with its contemporary surface detailing, sharp body lines and creases, and a more elongated sedan silhouette.

Green Turns To Gold

Volkswagen has added to its growing list of 2015 automotive industry accolades by winning the Green category in the annual BusinessCar Fleet Technology Awards - the Techies. The prestigious title was awarded to Volkswagen for the Golf GTE, an innovative plug-in hybrid that combines sporty dynamics with exceptional fuel economy and low CO2 emissions. Now in their seventh year, the Techies are judged by both BusinessCar's experienced editorial panel with help from TRL's technology expert. The industry's only technologyspecific awards, the BusinessCar Techies reward the use of technology to make business car fleet operations easier, cheaper, cleaner, safer and more straightforward. The judging panel selected the Golf GTE ahead of strong and established rivals on the Green shortlist, citing its exceptional performance, value and ease of use.

New Micra n-tec Model

Nissan is expanding its valuepacked Micra range with a new equipment-laden N-TEC model. Positioned between the existing Acenta and Tekna models, the new Micra N-TEC offers buyers the chance to experience some of Nissan's acclaimed technology features at an incredible price. Priced from £12,400 and available to order now, the new Micra N-TEC is available with the same advanced engine line up as other models in the range. That means customers can choose between the entry level 1.2-litre petrol engine that produces 80PS, or the supercharged 1.2-litre DIG-S unit that develops 98PS. The former is available with Nissan's smooth CVT automatic transmission as an option. The new Micra TEC's generous equipment list includes the lastest generation NissanConnect vstem. Accessed via a 5.8-inch colour touchscreen display, the N-TEC's NissanConnect system includes satellite navigation and smartphone integration. It also comes with advanced features such as Google Send-To-Car technology, which allows an owner to plan a journey on their PC or tablet at home or in the office and then send the instructions to the car ahead of the journey.

Plug-In Car Grant Extended

The Government has announced that the current Plug-in Car Grant scheme would continue to offer motorists up to £5,000 off the price of an electric car until at least February 2016 for all categories of vehicle, boosting further the rapidly-growing plug-in car market. The Government's commitment to maintaining the established Plug-in Car Grant will see the contribution for ultralow emission vehicles continue at current levels into 2016. Previously the Government had announced that grant levels would be reviewed once 50,000 vehicles had been sold, a milestone expected to be reached in November this year. As a result, all plug-in cars with CO2 emissions of 75g/km or less will remain eligible for a grant. Further details about how the plug-in car grant will be structured beyond February are expected following the Government Spending Review in November.

Fifty wickets for Rory but Northants wobble

STEAMING IN: Kleinveldt took three wickets

Rory Kleinveldt took his 50th wicket in the County Championship this season but Northamptonshire were to be frus-trated by Essex's lower order on day two at Chelmsford.

Northants reduced their hosts to 119-6 after putting them in to bat only for their attack to be thwarted by an excellent seventh-wicket partnership of 146 between Mark Pettini and wicketkeeper James Foster.

Essex were eventually bowled out for 360 and David Ripley's side were to close the second day on 143-3, 217 runs in arrears.

Northants came into this match looking to bounce back from losing the final of the T20 Blast against opposition who had just parted company with head coach Paul Grayson.

Rain washed out the first session on the opening day and Northants were to emerge on fire in the afternoon as their bowlers ripped through Essex's top

But the visitors' hopes of repeating the trick on their tail were dashed as former England international Foster made a magnificent 98 from 172 balls batting from number eight.

from number eight.

He eventually perished in looking to complete his century in the grand manner as he was taken by Josh Cobb at long on off the bowling of Rob Keogh.

20-year-old Aron Nijjar was to complete his maiden half-century with a dilligent 53 before Essex were eventually bowled out and Northage were seventually bowled out and Northage were ally bowled out and Northants were to find themselves in a precarious position by the close.

Opener David Murphy was dismissed cheaply before Ben Duckett was caught behind off Ravi Bopara to leave them on 58-2 in the middle of the evening.

The visitors were to then lose captain Alex Wakely with seven overs of the day left after he had made 43, meaning they still had to bat their way out of trouble as the match went into day three.

Richards poaches late winr

NORTHAMPTON TOWN COLCHESTER UNITED

BY MATT WRIGHT

Marc Richards stepped from the bench to grab a late winner for Northampton Town as they edged an enjoyable Johnstone's Paint Trophy tie against Colchester United.

The Cobblers were twice pegged back after going ahead against a side from a division above; albeit one that hasn't won yet this season only for Richards to do what he does best with five minutes left.

Matches at this stage of this competition are often tame, low-key affairs but this wasn't the case at Sixfields as both teams gave the crowd plenty of entertainment.

It was also a first win in five games in all competitions for Chris Wilder's men, who will hope to carry on this winning form when they host Dagenham & Redbridge in League Two on Saturday.

Paul Corry was given his first start for the Cobblers following his summer move from Carlisle while Ryan Clarke, Sam Hoskins, Ryan Watson and Dominic Calvert-Lewin were all brought into the side.

The home fans soon had a goal to celebrate as their front two combined to great effect with Calvert-Lewin turning in Hoskins' low cross from the left from close Colchester goalkeeper Elliot Parish from the edge of the area.

Colchester grew back into the game, however, an equalised on 31 minutes as Macauley Bonne rose at the back post to head Callum Harriott's excellent cross back where it came from into the bottom corner.

To that point, the game had been quite a decent watch but unfortunately it became scrappy for the rest of the first half with neither side able to create any further chances before the break

Happily, the excitement returned just four minutes after the restart as Watson went on a storming run through the centre from the halfthrough the centre from the man-way line before ramming a low shot past Parish from 20 yards. It was the young midfielder's first goal for the Cobblers after signing permanently from Leicester after he was unable to find the net in his previous loan with them in 2014.

But Colchester almost quickly levelled again when Matthew Briggs sent a rising shot over the bar from the corner of the box better than an awful earlier half-

Sammie Szmodics then passed up a great chance for the U's as he headed just wide when well-placed at the back post after Bonne's chipped cross picked him out.

Bonne didn't quite come as close, however, as he skied a shot out of the ground just before the hour mark before Lawson D'Ath had a well-struck free kick kept out by

The Northampton 'keeper spilled George Moncur's low drive from 25 yards and needed Ryan Cresswell to show good awareness in putting the ball behind ahead of the onrushing Bonne.

Moncur soon threatened again as he sent a low drive fizzing just wide of the far post with Clarke seemingly beaten as Colchester continued to press.
Wilder decided to call upon the experience of Richards in the final ten minutes but his side were unable to hold on.

COMMENT: Solid week as takeover saga drags on

GRIPPED BY THE COBBLERS

BY TOM REED

A 1-1 League draw at Accrington Stanley and a 3-2 victory over Colchester United in the Johnstone's Paint Trophy capped a satisfactory week for the Cobblers. Yet, with the identity of the Indian consortium purchasing the club still unknown and no players incoming in the transfer window it could be a case of limping to January for Town. At least no players left Sixfields on deadline day but the club feels like it is in limbo until the new owners reveal themselves and their intentions. Cobblers fans had hoped for another striker using the Ivan Toney transfer money and Northampton's share of the Newcastle League Cup gate but Chris Wilder's squad remained unchanged going into the Accrington and Colchester, Saturday-Tuesday fixtures. Marc Richards scored the opener for Cobblers with a sweet 39th minute lob over Jason Mooney at Stanley on Saturday. Stanley's stadium is now known as the Wham Stadium after a sponsorship tie-in but unfortunately Chris Wilder's young guns didn't go for the win and were pegged back by a Josh Windass penalty on 55 minutes.

Lawson D'ath had tripped Windass, son of ex-Hull favourite Dean, for the spot kick and D'ath made up one of Cobblers' inter-changeable attacking midfield three in Wilder's preferred 4-2-3-1 formation. The wealth of midfield options is Cobblers' only bright spot but even with the second-half introductions of Sam Hoskins, Chris Hackett and Ryan Watson, Northampton couldn't find the Cobblers away form last season was far too erratic and Wilder can take some credit from the draw against against Stanley. Indeed, Northampton went one better by seeing off Colchester under lights at Sixfields the following Tuesday in the Johnstone's Paint Trophy. The competition is much maligned and a low crowd of 1366 signified the lack of buzz at Sixfields at present. Again there was no space in the squad for John-Joe O'Toole with the midfielder on a long deal and good wages quickly becoming the League 2 equivalent of the money wasting and cack-handed squad-building at Spurs.

Still, O'Toole's sidelining made Still, O foole's sidelining made space for two players hungry for a career in the game in Dominic Calvert-Lewin and Ryan Watson. Both got on the score-sheet with Sheffield United loanee Calvert-Lewin chesting home Sam Hoskins' cross on 9 minutes. It's worth noting that Northenmen's two most that Northampton's two most dynamic performances have come in cup competitions with fringe elevens and Cobblers reproduced the verve of the Blackpool League Cup win here

League One Colchester are no mugs however and levelled through Zimbabwean Macauley Bonne on 32 minutes. That left Cobblers' Leicester loanee Ryan Watson to search for the winner and the midfielder went all out for goal of the season with a devastating solo run and thunderbolt shot from 20 yards which scorched past Elliot Parish.

The strike looked to be enough to seal a typically topsy-turvy Football League Trophy tie but Colchester's Bonne showed good finishing to guide the ball past Ryan Clarke for a U's equaliser on 82 minutes.

But as long as wily old
Northampton marksman Marc
Richards remains fit Town will have a chance to take hard-fought matches and that they did when the 33 year-old guided home the clincher with five minutes remaining. Cobblers go into Saturday's second round JPT draw looking at the com-petition as a decent chance to reach . Wembley in an uncertain season.

Cobblers started this term in rare form with three straight wins but there is little doubt that the takeover uncertainty has downgraded Northampton's season expecta-tions. It's now nine weeks and counting with the club's potential new owners still unnamed. That will have to be quickly remedied if Town are to go anywhere fast.

Sprinklers rain on Pisi and Fotualiiis parade

BURSTING THROUGH: Ken Pisi on the charge

The squads have been picked, the coaches have finally been allowed out of darkened rooms and the Northampton Saints will have their own Magnificent Seven in the Rugby World Cup.

For those who don't know (where have you been?) the big bash gets under way on September 18th but the teams have been preparing for months.

In the last few weeks they've been competing in warm-up games, which are sort of phoney wars before the real action gets under way with Saints players fully involved.

Ken Pisi and Kahn Fotuali'i both played for Samoa against the Barbarians in what was the first-ever rugby match at the Olympic Stadium but George Pisi had to sit that one out.

While everyone was tutting at the sprinklers going off in the middle of the game, what may have gone under the radar was that Pisi was one of Samoa's three try scorers.

They were to eventually lose 27-24 in a match where they had Kane Thompson sent off while Fotuali'i was forced off with concusion

The rugby world caught a glimpse of George North for the first time since March after his well-publicised problems with head injuries as the giant winger lined up for Wales at Ireland.

The 23-year-old became the youngest Welshman to win 50 caps in the process as the laser-guided boot of Leigh Halfpenny helped the visitors to a 16-10 victory in Dublin.

England are back in action on Saturday against the Irish at Twickenham with Courtney Lawes and Tom Wood in from the start and new Saint Kieran Brookes on the bench.

Spare a thought for Luther Burrell, however, after the centre was left out of Stuart Lancaster's squad last week with rugby league convert Sam Burgess pre-

Wilder is spoilt for choice

BY MATT WRIGHT

Northampton Town's performance in their Johnstone's Paint Trophy win over Colchester United has given manager Chris Wilder some selection headaches for their weekend clash with Dagenham & Redbridge.

Marc Richards' late winner at Sixfields on Tuesday night sealed an entertaining 3-2 victory for the Cobblers against opponents from a division above them in League One

It was hard to tell which team plays at a higher level, however, as the hosts produced a lively display where they also showed strength in character to recover from twice losing a

Wilder made five changes for the match with two of the players brought in, Dominic Calvert-Lewin and Ryan Watson, scoring to cap impressive showings.

Wilder said: "I'm really pleased with how the players performed and there's going to be some disappointed players on Saturday, but that's how it's got to be.

"But Lexpect the team I do pick on Saturday to play like I know we can play because we've got back to win-ning ways and it was back to what we produced earlier in the season.

"That delights me and now they need to show the consistency that we showed in the last half an hour at Accrington and against Colchester and hopefully kick on into Saturday." This has been a gruelling start to the season for Northampton, who are now preparing for their ninth game in just 29 days when they welcome Dagenham & Redbridge on Saturday. Wilder admits he'll be pleased to see the back of going to so many motorway service stations after such a hectic opening and is looking forward to a slightly more sedate period of the campaign.

He said: "It's not a moan because it's professional football and we've got to get on with it but we'd have rather been on the training ground.

"You have to tone it down to a certain extent playing Saturday-Tuesday when you obviously don't want to because you want to be training full tilt and try certain things.

"So far it's been play, recovery, set ourselves up for our next game and then go again and every manager is in the same situation as I am.

"We're now looking forward to having just one game per week and hopefully the players will."
